

Our Collaborative Partnership

SOCHE and the Greater Dayton Area Hospital Association (GDAHA) have partnered to build and maintain the Western Ohio Healthcare Industry Sector Partnership. Our collaboration will leverage strong partnerships among employers, educators, workforce development agencies, government partners, and community organizations so we can better understand the evolving skill demands of Ohio's industries and prepare Ohioans for the high-demand Healthcare jobs of the future.

Workforce Supply and Employment Projections

Providing employers with the proper tools for understanding the workforce supply in different industries in Ohio, as well as in-demand occupational information. Employers can also use these tools to identify the relative earnings, and most critically - obtain specific contact information for educational programs that can train their workforce. Higher Education providers can use the tools to identify similar programs to coordinate degree and certificate offerings as well as to understand the need for their students in different industries.

Working together with our partners to understand our workforce supply chain as well as the demand coming from employers in order to best meet the needs of our thriving economy!

Workforce Development

We are focused on helping employers engage with their potential workforce and helping students find the right pathway based on their interest and aptitude.

Whether you are a business looking for top talent, an educator wanting to shape Ohio's future curriculum, or a student looking for information on in-demand pathways, our resources can help provide valuable insights to help guide you along the way.

We are committed to working on behalf of all individuals in our community by providing everyone with collaborative and limitless workforce opportunities and resources.

We make everyone our top priority! Check out our limitless resources below.

Whether you're looking for credential guidance or a particular industry recognized credential or program, we've got you covered. Check out the credential engine (under College/University Credentials), which maps the credential landscape with consistent information that enables individuals to find the best regional pathway to that credential or degree program. Also, check out the CTE credentials button for the list of school districts where students are earning those Healthcare industry recognized credentials in our area.
